'Abu Salem and XL Premier League'

The modern day Jhola-wala¹ laptop carrying and pan chewing Professor Abu Salem was teaching financial accounting course at XL. The class was hazaar² impressed with his smart looks and pony tail especially the Delhi Dare Devil members including Vidhi, Raashi, Neetika, Dr. Mona, Neetika, and Prabhjot³. The Bengal tigers⁴ smelt potential competition and did not like him one bit especially Sanmoy, Angshuman, Vinay, Nakul, and Anshuman. Unlike the aggressive actresses down south, the sambar brigade decided to adopt a wait and watch approach; it included Archana, Gayatri, Sarada, Usha and Suhasini.

In a recent session, (as usual) Professor Abu Salem threatened the class with a surprise quiz. The class was of course not surprised. The Bengal tigers took it as an opportunity to prove themselves while the Delhi Dare Devils worked vigorously to impress the charismatic Abu Salem by repeated visits to beauty parlor-varlor, gym-vym, and doing some yoga-shoga. Abu Salem was close to Chotta Rajan, hence the sambar brigade thought 'yeh nahi to koi aur sahi'⁵ and targeted Chottan Rajan as their future partner. Finally, the day came when the quiz paper was there on the table. It included five companies listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange from different sectors – namely, Educomp Solutions Limited⁶; Fortis Financial Services Limited⁷; MMTC Limited⁸; Noida Toll Bridge Co. Limited⁹, and NTPC Limited¹⁰.

¹ Jhola-wala means office bag carrying (for laptop, etc.)

² Hazaar means thousand times

³ Whereas, the Delhi boys including Anshuman, Jasmeet, Saurabh, Vinay, Ankit, Shwetank, Ankur, and Piyush were left with chewing their nails

⁴ There were no comments from the Bengal Tigresses including Stuti, Farah, Nutan, and Pradipta

⁵ If not him, at least let me target his one of his friends

⁶ Private owned; Main Products: Books, CD ROMs, Toys, Software Education, Computers and other components

⁷ Business Group affiliate; Main Activities: Investment Banking, Securities and Other Financial Investment Activities

⁸ State owned; Main Activities: Wholesale and Retail Trade of Commodities such as Iron Ore, Gold, and Coal

⁹ Private owned; Main Activities: Infrastructure – Heavy Construction / Toll Bridge

¹⁰ State owned; Main Activities: Utilities (Power, Gas and Water Generation) especially generating thermal power

These five sample firms had different sizes and came from different stages of growth. The quiz paper involved identifying five main items in their balance sheet and income statement for the financial year ending 2007 i.e., accounting period ending 31st March 2007. 'Main' being importance in terms of their size in the respective financial statements (i.e., pick the largest ones). We present the same below:

Based on your judgment, you are required to tick only five items for each company:
