Case: Hazaar Maarya's Business [11% weightage]Andher Nagari Chaupat Raja... Taka Ser Bhaja Taka Ser Khaja.

In the tax free economy of Andher Nagari, Hazar Maarya lived a leisurely retired life. But, his superb amazingly cute sweet fabulous pretty charming fantabulous glamorous incredible awesome brainy hazaar-beautiful enchanting blazing dynamic electric damsel darling wife, Jalebi-rani forced him to start a business. The transactions for the first accounting period are listed below:

- ◆ Hazar Maarya starts business with a capital of Rs XY¹. The business entity is called Hazar Maarya Limited.
- ◆ Loans Rs XY at an interest rate of 10% per accounting period
- ◆ Using the loan amount he purchases a Gubbare-wala machine i.e., Balloons blowing machine at Rs XY
- ◆ Purchases ten balloons on credit wherein each balloon is billed at Rs 0.XY per balloon
- ◆ He also rents a small road side space from the local political leaders at a rate of Rs X+Y per accounting period. But, he clearly displays his power by stating that he will pay the amount at a later point in time (as and when his business settles well).
- ◆ Sells eight balloons at Rs 1 per balloon. Two little customers, Rakshasa Mayavi and Arrogant King Vali promise to pay in the next accounting period.
- ◆ Decides to close the account book for the first accounting period. He also makes a provision for depreciation on machinery at 20% WDV basis for each accounting period (per Andher Nagari's accounting norms).

¹ where X and Y are your last three digits of your roll number as explained earlier.

Based on the discussion above, you are required to prepare the financial statements of Hazar Maarya Limited for period I.

- ◆ Sells ten balloons at Rs 2 per balloon. All the customers promise to pay in the next accounting period.
- ◆ After a lot of pursuance from his wife counselors and younger brother Sugreeva, arrogant King Vali pays up the dues against his name.
- ◆ After lot of cold calls and emails, Rakshasa Mayavi promises to pay in the next accounting period. Hazar Maarya does not have the confidence and decides to make a provision.
- ◆ Nasir ud-din Muhammad Humayun (Persian: نصير الدين محمد همايون; full title: Al-Sultan al-'Azam wal Khaqan al-Mukarram, Jam-i-Sultanat-i-haqiqi wa Majazi, Sayyid al-Salatin, Abu'l Muzaffar Nasir ud-din Muhammad Humayun Padshah Ghazi, Zillu'llah), the Mughal Emperor pays Rs 91 advance to Hazar Maarya Limited for delivery of thirty seven balloons in the next accounting period (to celebrate his next birthday).
- ◆ Daku Man Singh, the most legendary dacoit with a Tendulkar-ish track record of over 1,000 armed robberies, 185 murders, and countless ransom kidnappings made few enquiries into the accounting practices of the company. Daku Man Singh was involved in 90 police encounters and had killed over 32 policemen. His enquiries made the firm run for cover – while some thought that this was a case of a potential hostile takeover threat over the company others thought that he was being sent by Anna Hazare's team in their search for help.
- ◆ Like last time, Hazar Maarya Limited closes the books for the second accounting period. He also makes all the provisions as per Andher Nagari's prudent accounting norms. He makes use of FIFO method to value the inventory.

Based on the discussion above, you are required to prepare the financial statements of Hazar Maarya Limited for period II.
