What topic do you like to get added or deleted to this course ?

i feel certain topics like dividend policy and MACRS are not relevant in indian context. It is updated. one more course of BFM might do somemore value addition.
 Financial Planning
 I think the course is very well designed and apt for the PMIR students .
 no....continue with the course...it was a great learning experience with Prof. Kakani Raising Corporate Finance dealt only with equity. All possible options for rasing finance along with their relative merits and demerits could be looked at. This would also help us in approachir Business Plan contests better.
 Some more information about the regulatory environment would be welcome, atleast as part of the handout, if not a live class session.

What specific suggestion would you like to give to the course instructor ?

Although the professor had tried to give students an HR perspective (ie. relevant to PMIR students), i feel the professor could give us an idea of latest stock market issues, financial instruments, etc.
 Do not give negative marking for questions not attempted.
 If he could kindly relax his negative marking system, there will be greater enthusiasm and less fear creating more interest.
 I think he has handeled the course very well .
 it is very imprssive that a person is focusing on learning value of course but at the same time such of lot of fear has been created that dtudents dont pay any attention. the marking system is flawed somewhere coz the less deserving students ended up getting far better grades in the mi term.

Could we have a session or two dedicated to analysing financial newspaper headlines. This session could involve the instructor walking the class through a page or two and talking about possible implication of the news items on the financial Markets. Then maybe presentations by the class on the rest of the news items.

none, It was an AWESOME course with LOTS OF LEARNING VALUE and PRACTICAL IMPLICATIONS. Could have some more sessions on share market and portfolio management from the pt. of view of the retail investors.

Not to increase the existing number of submissions and quizzes to enhance learning value and eagerness of non-finance students.

Wish we could have simpler quizzes :P

Topics in the latter part of the course (last 4-5 sessions) were a little dry. Could they be made more numbers based, like the earlier sessions? I guess this is difficult, but I am sure Sir will be able to work this one thru

There should be more copies of Brealy-Myers and Prasanna-chandra available in the library since we had to read-up many chapters from these books. Alternatively, we could have been given handouts of the relevant chapters from these books.

He is excellent and is always available. so nothing additional.

Allotment of a separate class in the overall schedule as doubt clearing sessions
